SPECIAL NOTICE TO THE FUTURE.

AN EAGLE reporter had a conversation with a Pennsylvania yesterday concerning the future of Wichita. The gentleman inquired of the reporter what were the anticipations of our people. In reply the reporter said the idea was pretty general that this would be a city of 50,000 in twenty years. The gentleman said: "There is no telling what it may become in that time, but your anticipations are modest. This is a wonderfully rich country and there are the very best opportunities to concentrate here a variety of manufactures to make it a city that would combine to run it up to 50,000 population within ten years. The simple turn of one industrial wheel has done that much for some cities. The prospects in that respect in favor of your city are so numerous that it is impossible to estimate with any degree of certainty what it may become. Now, for instance, there is Durham, N. C., a tobacco manufacturing town, situated in a miserably poor country and without any other industry whatever. Twenty years ago Durham was a miserable little hamlet of a few inhabitants; the total value of their property being only $10,000. In twenty years, the population of this little place, surrounded by a poor country and depending entirely on the manufacture of tobacco, has increased 7,000 and the assessed valuation of the town property is $25,000,000. So you see what a single manufacturing has done for that place. See what manufacturing has done for Atlanta, and there are many other cities I could name in this connection."

Now, as I said before, there are so many industries possible in this city, it is impossible to tell now what she may become in twenty years."

According to the following, which has appeared in several of the metropolitan papers, Scott, the gardener, has got into a bad box:

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Sept. 1.—A prosecution under most singular circumstances was begun today. The complainant is Jane Blauvelt, who alleges in her complaint that she was delivered of a child May 12, 1897, of which W. H. Scott, alias W. H. Harrison is the father, and that prosecution hitherto was impossible owing to his absence from the city. Mr. Scott's home is at Wichita, Kas., and the strongest part of the story is that he came here a day or two ago and, finding the son, Thomas H. Blauvelt, who, although a minor, is married and has one or more children, purchased a suit of clothing, etc., and offered to take him to Kansas and set him up in business. To this the mother and wife objected, as he is their only support, and to prevent Scott from carrying out his plan had him arrested. He claims that the arrest is outrageous and that the Blauvelt woman's allegations are unfounded in that, that he remained in the city continuously until 1897. The case will be heard tomorrow.

The announcement of the death of Miss Lizzie Rumbold yesterday, was received with sadness by the many who had become acquainted with her since her arrival in this city a few weeks since. She had been elected by the board of education as a teacher for the ensuing year, and had subsequently successfully passed an examination which was pronounced brilliant and upon the strength of which she was tendered an assistant principalship. Miss Rumbold came to this city from Carbondale, Illinois, which is the home of her parents, and to which point the remains were sent yesterday accompanied by her mother. She was sick but a few days, having attended the institute up to the last session. She was a niece of Mrs. John Davis, with whom she was making her home.

THE SHORT HAIR CRAZE.
The short hair craze among ladies, which has been gaining ground in the east since the accession of Grover to the First to the United States throne, and his sister as queen, is making its way west and there are a few well developed cases of it in Wichita. Miss Cleveland, the president's sister, has had it bad for some time, but until she obtained her present exalted position short hair was considered a dead give-away in ladies. It was generally considered an index to a "fast" woman, but now that it is changed because Miss Cleveland wears short hair, and the disease is spreading as fast as the hog cholera. It is hoped it won't become epidemic in Wichita.

AN EAGLE reporter, who happened into H. G. Lee's office yesterday, was shown as fine a set of books as there are in the state. The books were given up in the Eagle office. The books are a set of land office copies of the Citizens Land company, of which C. R. Miller is president, Finley Ross, vice-president; J. O. Davidson, treasurer, and H. G. Lee, general manager, with a capital stock of $100,000. Mr. G. Gorin is the book-keeper, and a glance over his accounts will convince any one versed in such matters that he is an accomplished accountant. Their headquarters have just been improved by the addition of a very neat private office.

One A. T. & S. F. stock car and two Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific that were on the side track at the "Y" yesterday. They were consigned to the Consolidated Tank Line company, Wichita, and the Santa Fe car was filled with barrels of oil, while on each of the Rock Island tank cars is an immense boiler-shaped tank thirty feet in length and ten feet in diameter. Another of these tanks was expected to arrive last night and three more will be placed on the rows of stone piers in front of the large storehouse now in course of erection. The capacity of these tanks is about 500 barrels each.

September, so far, has given us a great variety of weather. It was ushered in by a cold snap, followed by rain. Yesterday it came out bright and warm again, but about 5 p. m. it clouded up and at 6 the heaviest rain since spring set in and poured down in torrents until morning was good along the sides of the streets. At this writing it looks as if there would be more before morning. The wet season appears to have set in.

TOO DEAR FOR THE WHISTLE.
A boy named Ballock, son of the proprietor of the vineyard, north of the city, traded two very nice mules last Monday to some campers on Douglas avenue, for two old plugs of horses, at the time he was on his way to Kingston with a load of grapes. Yesterday he returned and his father seeing that he had got the worst of the trade by the price of the mules, returned the horses and relieved the mules. Constable Comer went over and took them into his possession and the horse traders are very angry about it. They say that the son ought to have been instructed in the rules laid down by Poor Richard over a century ago, so that he might have some horse sense.

HORSE RAISING.
Sedgewick county farmers will find it profitable in future to enter more extensively into raising good marketable horses. Wichita is becoming noted all over the west as a horse and mule market and the demand for such stock is continually on the increase. Horses, ponies and cheap horses have in the past been most in demand, but now the demand for a better class of horses is becoming marked, and in future it will become profitable to engage in raising such stock.

A government dealer, from St. Joe, Mo., who had heard of the prominence of the Wichita market, was here yesterday for the purpose of buying a carload of cavalry horses, but there was no chance to fill his order.

POLICE COURT.
Judge Glenn had yesterday set apart for a full benefit for the nymph daupine of the city, seven of whom came on the boards and acted up $8 and costs. The circus was reached when Ed Smith came in as general manager and acted $25 as a license for her manager. Outside of this the court was extra dull, not even a drunk showed up to relieve the monotony. The cases filed were: Fred Smith vs. John Doe, $200; John Doe vs. Fred Smith, $200; John Doe vs. Fred Smith, $200.

DISTRICT COURT.
The following cases were filed in the district clerk's office yesterday:
Happgood Plow Company vs. O. P. Gonsoli, et al.; same vs. William Downey, et al.; same vs. W. B. Widows, et al.; same vs. T. Hobson, et al.; same vs. W. H. Kelly, et al.; suits on promissory notes.

Bridge & Beach Manufacturing company vs. C. B. Beeson, a suit in attachment.
S. D. Pelt vs. T. E. Oliver, suit to foreclose.

Channing Stichters, et al. vs. Robert Guthrie, Jr., a suit in ejectment.

Thursday evening a team at the Merchants Mill on Douglas avenue owned by McMerchie, became frightened and ran east over the bridge barely demolishing vehicles on the way, some of which encountered directly on the bridge. Dr. Johnson was directly in front of him and it took his best time to keep out of their way. At the end of the bridge young Dives threw a lass over one of the horses and by the assistance of some bystanders they were bailed out and stopped. The danger that was so imminent was avoided and no real injury resulted.

Mr. S. W. Cooper, who in company with Mrs. Cooper, has spent two months among the Catskills, at Atlantic City and Manhattan Beach, writes Mr. W. C. McCormick that they, accompanied by Mr. Ned Balch, a nephew of Mr. Cooper, will arrive home to-morrow evening. Mr. Dallet will remain and assist Mr. Cooper in the office.

Dr. G. H. Toth arrived home from Illinois yesterday morning. He says the people of his county would like to have him come back, but as soon as the excitement of the county fair was over he wanted to get back to Wichita. The danger that was so imminent was avoided and no real injury resulted.

MAGISTRATE'S COURT.
Justice Thomas tried another case under the prohibition law yesterday, that of Geo. Walkup, and after a plea of guilty the usual fine, imprisonment and costs were assessed. A suit of replevin for two mules was entered yesterday, the parties to which are Bladock vs. Sloan.

The brick makers on top of a three story brick on Market street got into an altercation yesterday and came to blows. As they were in sight of a number of people being attracted considerable interest. It seems they had two tussles up there but no real injury was done.

Judge Jewett was called on yesterday to enquire into the sanity of Mrs. Jane Nichols, of this city. The complaint was filed by her daughter, Leah Alexander. The judge after hearing the evidence decided that there was no evidence justifying him in declaring her insane. The complaint was caused by family unpleasantness.

A. W. Mills, J. N. Baylis and Dan Easter have just returned from a trip of over 200 miles in the west. They took claims in Hodgeman county and report that country as being above their expectations. Mr. Mills says that he saw some red corn that was immense and equal to any growing on old land.

Our old and valued friend, A. Halsey, left in our sanitarium yesterday during his absence at dinner hour, a large basket of size as only this valley can show. We suppose that they were of his own production and he will accept our acknowledgments.

Mr. S. A. Darrough, of the Darrough Land and Loan company, of Anthony, and his brother, W. H. Darrough, of the firm of Darrough, Summers & Co., Mead Center, were both in the city yesterday on business connected with their respective firms and made the Eagle a call.

Mr. E. T. Williamson, of Wellington, was in town yesterday looking around to see the progress of Wichita since he used to live here. He says they are afraid to say anything at Wellington lest Marsh Murdock would hop onto them.

M. L. Green, one of Chicago's prominent lumber merchant's, is a guest of the Manhattan. He is looking into his lumber interests at this place and adjoining cities.

The plot of the Frisco Heights was filed in the recorder's office yesterday. Grand avenue runs through its center; the blocks are a little more than eight acres each, each divided into four lots of two acres and a fraction each, exclusive of streets.

County Attorney J. M. Balderson told a reporter yesterday that he was seriously considering the proposition to dispense with the services of Deacon Smith as assistant and substituting Horace Carpenter.
